

Albuquerque Evening Citizen.

VOL. 21, NO. 16.

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 8, 1907.

The Evening Citizen, in Advance, 55 per year. Delivered by Carriers, 60 cents per month.

ORCHARD STICKS ALL DETAILS OF STORY

Refuses to Permit Defense to Draw Mistaken Inferences
From His Testimony.

ADDS ARSON TO HIS LIST OF CRIMES

Tells How He Fired Saloon and Divided Insurance With the Owner—Defense Will Accuse
Mine Owners of Being Orchard's Employers.

Boise, Idaho, June 8.—The Haywood trial was resumed at 9:30 o'clock today with Harry Orchard still under cross examination.

The Haywood family group, now numbering seven, was in court when proceedings began. Orchard testified today that he did not become acquainted with Pettibone until 1904, the same year he went with Meyer to Gradyville, Ky.

He roomed over Pettibone's store for a while.

Stick to Details.

He adhered to every one of his first statements and elaborated them under the hall of questions from the defense.

Attorney Richardson devoted much time to fixing dates.

The witness said that Pettibone had reported the proposed assassination of Detective Gregory to the executive board of the Western Federation, and that representative members of the board thought that Pettibone was a good thing. He said Jack Simpkins, James Kiwan, E. C. Coakley and Jack Williams were members of the board at that time.

Orchard constantly corrected Richardson as to inferences he would draw from the witness' answers and as to the attorney's recollection of his direct testimony.

Haywood repeatedly consulted with Richardson, suggesting questions and giving correct dates.

Will Claim a Plot.

The tack taken by the attorney for Haywood in asking Orchard if he wanted Adams to help him in the assassination of Governor Peabody because Adams was a Federation man, is taken as an indication that the defense will contend that Orchard was in the employ of the Mine Owners' association, and is trying to involve the Federation, or a Federation man, in all of his crimes.

It is certain that the defense will claim that there was a counter plot on the part of the mine owners to break up the miners' union by having all lawless acts attributed to it.

Story of His Life.

In response to a question, Orchard said that he had written the story of his life in a book.

He said that Detective McFarland had seen the book but denied that McFarland ever suggested any changes in the narrative.

The defense endeavored to lay foundation for showing that Simpkins, because he was in the Idaho bullpen, and Orchard, because he was driven out of Idaho, and that it was his interest in the Hercules mine, which later became very valuable, had a deep private grudge against Steuenerberg.

Committed Arson Also.

Orchard today created something of a sensation by adding the crime of arson to his long list of misdeeds.

He said that he and Johnny Neville had decided to burn the Neville saloon near the Independence depot, collect the insurance, and divide it.

He set fire to the saloon, which he said was done by Johnny Neville, but he got only $100 of the $600 insurance Neville collected.

Court adjourned for the day at 11:55 with Orchard still on the stand.

STOPPED CAR SO SHE COULD SLEEP

Mrs. Phelps Stokes Enjoyed Quiet
Nap Unmindful of Switch Engines
—En Route to New York

Home.

Because she could not sleep soundly while traveling in the Pullman, Mrs. Stokes, mother of a millionaire philanthropist, etc., of New York City, had her special car detached from Santa Fe passenger train No. 10 at Albuquerque this morning and placed on a siding.

Then Mrs. Stokes turned in and, judging from the drawn windows and shades of the private car "Constitution," she slept the sleep of the just.

The car stood on the spur of track to the north of the Alvarado hotel and while several big switch engines and a freight train or two operated in the vicinity, Mrs. Stokes slumbered on undisturbed.

This should in no way be taken to mean that Albuquerque is a sleepy place, but at all events that was Mrs. Stokes' reason for stopping here.

It was reported at first that Wm. Randolph Phelps, the yellow journalist and leader of certain undemocratic democrats was the occupant of the car. Mr. Hearst, however, is not noted for his sleeping ability either in newspaper work or politics, so the statement of Mrs. Stokes' pretty stenographer that her employer, the erstwhile slum worker, was only enjoying her usual nap, passed without contradiction. The stenographer said:

"No, this is not Mr. Hearst's private car. It is occupied by Mrs. Stokes of New York. She doesn't care to be interviewed as she is not feeling well. She is en route home, that's all."

Mrs. Stokes is the mother of John F. Phelps-Stokes, the famous social worker of New York City, who married Miss Rose Pastor, whom he met while working in the slums of Gotham.

WITNESS CONFIRMS
FORMER EVIDENCE

San Francisco, June 8.—In the trial of Mayor Schiavo this morning, Carmine Maffei, who before the fire was the proprietor of Frank's French restaurant, corroborated the testimony given yesterday by the keepers of other French restaurants.

LIFE SKETCHES OF ATTY. HAWLEY, WHO ASKED JURY FOR DEATH OF HAYWOOD

J. H. HAWLEY IS CHIEF PROSECUTOR OF SECRETARY HAYWOOD IN THE TRIAL AT BOISE. SKETCHES TAKEN DURING HIS PRESENTATION OF THE STATE'S CASE TO THE JURY LAST TUESDAY WHEN HE DEMANDED THE DEATH SENTENCE FOR THE DEFENDANT.

GIRL-WOMEN TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY TODAY

Begin to Realize Enormity of Their Crime and Often Break Into Tears.

TALK FEARFULLY OF THEIR SITUATION

Mrs. Valentina Madrid, the native woman, who was convicted of the murder of Manuel Madrid, the husband of Mrs. Madrid, at Hillsboro recently, the crime being consummated by placing rat poison in his coffee, and who would have been hanged yesterday had not Acting Governor Reynolds commuted their sentences to life imprisonment, passed through Albuquerque this morning en route to the territorial penitentiary at Santa Fe, where they will pass the rest of their lives.

The two young women were in charge of Sheriff Ed. Tafuya, of Sierra county, and his brother, Deputy Sheriff Daniel Tafuya.

Hard Trip.

The prisoners were taken to a restaurant on South First street, where the party had breakfast. "We left Hillsboro yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock," said Sheriff Tafuya, "and rode to Nutt station in a buggy, taking the train there and riding to Rincon, where we waited for No. 10. The trip has been a tiresome one, both to the prisoners and ourselves. They have not spoken more than five words since we left the Sierra county jail."

Broke Their Silence.

They broke their silence, however, when Albuquerque dawned on their vision.

"What is that?" queried Mrs. Madrid in much astonishment as an electric car rounded the corner at First and Gold avenue. She had become used to a passenger train, the first she had ever seen, since starting for Santa Fe, but the sight of this car moving along without an engine rather puzzled her. She was informed as to its character, and the party entered the restaurant.

Spanish Woman Affected.

Mrs. Madrid, who said she was not hungry and a movement of her well disclosed eyes filled with tears, hid her face as much as possible from the view of others in the restaurant.

Colored Girl Was Hungry.

The negroes, however, who had almost been weeping slightly during the trip to Albuquerque, "chirped right up," and as soon as the waiter entered, said in a loud voice:

"Gimme some fried pork chops, and some coffee."

Begin to Realize Position.

Mrs. Madrid, showing her veil aside for a moment, disclosing a tear stained face, asked:

"What is a penitentiary like? Is it like out jail at Hillsboro? I am afraid to go there because I don't want to be hurt."

She spoke in broken Spanish and there was real anxiety in her tone.

The penitentiary life was briefly described to her and, though she brightened somewhat, she still expressed a fear of the place.

Sorry for Crime.

She pathetically declared that she was sorry for her crime and would give her own life to undo it.

The colored woman, however, though seized occasionally with remorse, is holding up the spirits of the other, and at all events that was Mrs. Madrid's reason for stopping here.

It was reported at first that Wm. Randolph Phelps, the yellow journalist and leader of certain undemocratic democrats was the occupant of the car. Mr. Hearst, however, is not noted for his sleeping ability either in newspaper work or politics, so the statement of Mrs. Stokes' pretty stenographer that her employer, the erstwhile slum worker, was only enjoying her usual nap, passed without contradiction. The stenographer said:

"No, this is not Mr. Hearst's private car. It is occupied by Mrs. Stokes of New York. She doesn't care to be interviewed as she is not feeling well. She is en route home, that's all."

Mrs. Stokes is the mother of John F. Phelps-Stokes, the famous social worker of New York City, who married Miss Rose Pastor, whom he met while working in the slums of Gotham.

WITNESS CONFIRMS
FORMER EVIDENCE

San Francisco, June 8.—In the trial of Mayor Schiavo this morning, Carmine Maffei, who before the fire was the proprietor of Frank's French restaurant, corroborated the testimony given yesterday by the keepers of other French restaurants.

MANY POSTMASTERS GET INCREASED SALARIES

New Mexico Offices Show
Gains Generally of $100 to $300—Only Three Lessened.

ARIZONA SECURES
NUMBER OF RAISES

Washington, D. C., June 8.—The twenty-four annual adjustment of the salaries of postmasters has been completed and the following changes will occur on July 1, 1907:

New Mexico.

Clayton, from $1,700 to $1,500; Dawson, from $1,500 to $1,500; East Las Vegas, from $2,500 to $2,400; Farmington, from $1,100 to $1,200; Gallup, from $1,400 to $1,500; Portales, from $1,400 to $1,300; Roswell, from $2,400 to $2,500; San Marcel, from $1,000 to $1,100; Santa Fe, from $2,500 to $2,400; Santa Rosa, from $2,200 to $2,300; Silver City, from $1,800 to $1,900; Texico, from $1,100 to $1,200; Tucuman, from $1,400 to $1,500.

Arizona.

Benson, from $1,300 to $1,400; Douglas, from $2,400 to $2,500; Globe, from $2,300 to $2,500; Kingman, from $1,400 to $1,500; Lowell, from $1,400 to $1,500; Metcalf, from $1,000 to $1,100; Morehead, from $1,700 to $1,800; Nogales, from $1,700 to $1,800; Phoenix, from $2,500 to $2,600; Prescott, from $2,500 to $2,600; Safford, from $1,200 to $1,300; Tempe, from $1,500 to $1,600; Tombstone, from $1,600 to $1,700; Tucson, from $2,700 to $2,800; Yuma, from $1,800 to $1,900.

Here it will be seen that only Safford increased $200 and Globe $200, showing that the towns of Arizona are not increasing as rapidly as the towns of New Mexico.

Las Cruces, N. M., June 8.—John Seaman, the man arrested recently for smuggling three Chinamen across the border line from Mexico, was bound over to the federal grand jury by Commissioner McKees at Las Cruces, yesterday.

When he was brought before the commissioner, Seaman admitted that he had smuggled the Mongolians into the territory, and stated that his confession to Chief Inspector Schmucker at El Paso is the truth. The Chinamen were ordered deported.

Major W. H. H. Lewis, federal district attorney represented the government at the arraignment.

It was brought out at the hearing that Seaman has been lacking in the last six years, but heretofore he has eluded the officers.

After the hearing the Chinamen Seaman offered to take them to San Bernardino, Cal., for $150 each, and that they were recommended to him by other Chinamen now living in California, who had entered the country by his smuggling system.

Seaman has been engaged in this business for the past six years.

CONFESSES KILLING OF HIS WIFE'S MOTHER

Karl Hau Makes Statement
Following Announcement of Former's Suicide.

Karlsruhe, Germany, June 8.—Karl Hau, who has been under arrest here for some time charged with the murder of his mother-in-law at Baden-Baden in November last, confessed his guilt today.

Hau's confession followed the news that his wife had committed suicide by throwing herself into a lake in Switzerland.

Although a German by birth, Hau lived for many years in Washington, where he was prominent socially and in the legal profession.

Money troubles prompted Hau's crime.

VILLAGES DESTROYED
BY EARTHQUAKE

Constantinople, June 8.—The village of Serik, located fifty miles east of Van, on the Turkish-Persian frontier, was destroyed by an earthquake yesterday.

Many lives were lost and the property damage will reach a high figure. The shock was felt in many other points on the frontier.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK AN OVERLAND LIMITED

Track Walker Near Los Angeles
Discovers Log Chain
Bound Around Rails.

EVIDENTLY WORK OF DISCHARGED EMPLOYEE

Los Angeles, Cal., June 8.—According to a statement of railroad officials here, an attempt was made yesterday to wreck the southbound Overland train a short distance south of this city.

It is said that a trackwalker discovered a heavy log chain bound across the rails at a siding switch in such a way as to derail the train.

The scene of the attempt was but a short distance from West Glendale, where a passenger train was recently wrecked.

Evidently Revenge.

Officials are convinced that efforts to wreck trains are made by a crank or discharged employee, and are most inclined to the latter.

Other attempts of kindred nature, which have been kept secret, lead to the theory that revenge is the would-be wreckers' reason for attempting to destroy the trains.

Four Inspectors.

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

HEADQUARTERS FOR THE FOREST SERVICE

Chief Inspector Bronson Will Establish Offices in Albuquerque.

HIS LINE IS ONLY
INSPECTION WORK

Albuquerque has been selected as the district headquarters for the Forest Reserve district which includes New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma and Porto Rico. D. D. Bronson, chief inspector for this district, arrived here today and is busy seeking office accommodations for this new department.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

When interviewed at the Alvarado, Mr. Brown said:

"Our work here will be purely inspection work and will not interfere with or overlap the work of the local supervisor with headquarters in this city. The pressure became so great at the headquarters of the National Forest service that it was deemed best to divide the department into six districts. Albuquerque, being centrally located in the southwest, naturally was chosen as my headquarters."

Each chief district inspector has four assistants under him. These are a planting inspector, grazing inspector, timber sale inspector and a person in charge of the forest service.

TORNADO KILLS MANY IN CENTRAL STATES

Southern Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky Swept by Storms and a Number Are Dead and Injured.

CLOUDBURST RUINS A KENTUCKY TOWN

York and New Minden, Illinois and Sullivan, Indiana, Damaged
by Heavy Winds—Water Washes
Gradyville, Ky., Away
Property Loss Great.

Chicago, Ill., June 8.—Dispatches from southern Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky, tell of storms of tornado severity which caused some loss of life and destruction of much property.

At New Minden, Illinois, 25 miles southeast of St. Louis, early today, four persons were killed and a score of others injured by the tornado.

At Gradyville, Kentucky, a cloudburst is said to have caused the loss of ten to fifteen lives, and washed away eight houses.

At York, Illinois, last night, twenty-five or thirty houses were destroyed and a number of persons killed.

At Farmersburg and Sullivan, Indiana, much damage was done by wind and rain.

Duquoin, Illinois, was visited by the same storm that caused so much destruction at York, but no lives were lost there.

Four Dead at New Minden.

Nashville, Ill., June 8.—A tornado swept over New Minden, seven miles south of this city this morning, killing four persons and injuring over a score of others.

The dead are:

Mrs. Henry Weihe and two children.

Child of Carl Steuener.

Mrs. Carl Steuener may die.

Most of the houses destroyed were cottages in the northern part of town. The German Lutheran church was badly damaged and its parochial school demolished.

The four killed were all in Weihe's house which was demolished and its occupants blown with the debris into neighboring fields.

Much damage was done in the surrounding community.

Eleven years ago New Minden was visited by a tornado and four or five persons killed.

Village Destroyed.

Louisville, Ky., June 8.—Twenty-one people are missing and the little town of Gradyville in the southern part of this state almost totally destroyed as the result of a cloudburst which sent a great volume of water down on the sleeping hamlet shortly after midnight.

A partial list of the dead and missing follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Strong Hill and family.

John Moore.

Austin Wilmore.

Mrs. Wilmore.

Dr. L. C. Zell, former state senator, and family.

H. Moss and family of five children.

The storm began about 10 o'clock last night and increased in intensity until 12:30.

A big creek overflowed, pouring great volumes of water upon Gradyville.

Nearly every house in the place washed away and thousands of acres of crops are ruined.

Gradyville has a population of about 120.

Tornado at York.

Terre Haute, Ind., June 8.—Meagre details from West York, Illinois, tell of a destructive tornado that visited the village of York located on the Wabash river southwest of this city, last night.

The known dead are:

Henry Hook, aged 59, found crushed to death in his garden.

Mrs. Malinda Pinkston, aged 45, found dead in a tree.

Members of the families of these two victims were injured.

KANSAS CITY POLICE GRAFT WORST ON RECORD

Disclosures Made That Will Probably Cause Removal of Half Force in Short Time.

ANOTHER WITNESS VICTIM OF ASSAULT

Police Photographer Stege Attacked by Detective Bates After Former Had Appeared Before Police Board—Desperate Fight Between Men.

Kansas City, Mo., June 8.—The investigation of the Kansas City police department, started at the institution of Governor Folk, promises to reveal even a more startling state of graft and inquiry than the now famous disclosures at San Francisco.

During the past week, the developments have come thick and fast. Two sensational statements and a fight at police headquarters between the police photographer and a detective were incidents of only one day's session.

Detective Removed.

</